Asymmetric SNOM probes: from design to fabrication

Valeria Lotito, Christian Hafner, Urs Sennhauser, Gian-Luca Bona

Different asymmetric scanning near-field optical microscopy probe configurations to get field localization under linearly polarized excitation have been investigated and compared. Subsequently the feasibility of such structures using focused ion beam nanostructuring has been assessed.